Digital Narrative Reflection

What do you like the most about your digital narrative?

Is there anything that you wish would have turned out differently?

What did you learn about your own identity throughout this process?

What do you hope your classmates learn or understand about your identity?

Consider the script that you wrote for your narrative. Were you able to fully capture the story you wanted to tell? Why or why not?

What was most challenging about this project?

What was most rewarding about this project?